EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Byelaws)

These Byelaws regulate the types of occupation in which children under school leaving age may be employed (Byelaws 3-5), and other conditions of their employment. They provide for checks on a child’s fitness for employment (Byelaws 10 and 11) and for the issue of employment permits, setting out the occupation in which a child may be employed and his hours of work (Byelaws 9-16). Employers are obliged to notify local authorities of their child employees (Byelaw 9). Additional requirements are imposed on the employment of children in street trading, for which a local authority consent is required (Byelaws 17-20).

These Byelaws are not a comprehensive statement of the law relating to the employment of children and should be read in conjunction with other legislation relating to prohibited occupations, hours of work and street trading in particular.

By virtue of Section 560 of the Education Act 1996, enactments relating to the prohibition or regulation of the employment of children do not apply to children undertaking work experience within the meaning of the Act. “Enactment” for this purpose includes Byelaws having effect under an enactment, so nothing in these Byelaws applies to a child’s work experience.

PROHIBITED AND PERMITTED EMPLOYMENT

Children aged 13 are limited to employment in the occupations listed at Byelaw 5. Children aged 14 or over are not limited in this way, but may only undertake light work (Byelaw 4). Byelaw 3 lists various occupations which are prohibited for children, even if they would constitute light work. Many more occupations or specific tasks are prohibited by other legislation, including:

- the Employment of Women, Children and Young Persons Act 1920, which prohibits the employment of children in any “industrial undertaking”, including mines and quarries, manufacturing industry, construction and the transport of passengers or goods by road, rail or inland waterway (Section 1 (1));
- the Agriculture (Safety, Health and Welfare Provisions) Act 1956, under which it is an offence to cause or permit a child to ride on or drive a vehicle, machine or agriculture implement (Section 7);
- the Office Shops and Railway Premises Act 1963, which provides that no young person may clean machinery if to do so would expose him to risk of injury (Section 18);
- the Betting Gaming and Lotteries Act 1963, which prohibits the employment of persons under 18 in effecting any betting transaction or in a licensed betting office (Section 21);
- the Licensing Act 1964, which prohibits the employment of children in the bar of licensed premises (Section 170) and the Licensing (Occasional Permissions) Act 1983, which prohibits any person under 18 from selling or serving alcohol in premises authorised under the Act (paragraph 5 (1) of the Schedule);
- the Merchant Shipping Act 1995, by virtue of which no person under minimum school leaving age may be employed on a ship registered in the UK, except as permitted by Regulations made under the Act (Section 55); and
- the Manual Handling Operating Regulations 1992, which prohibit children from handling any load which is likely to cause injury to them.

It should be noted that this is not an exhaustive list.
The Children (Performances) Regulations 1968 provide that no child taking part in a performance for which a licence is required by Section 37 of the Children and Young Persons Act 1963 may be employed in any other occupation on the day or days of that performance or the following day.

STREET TRADING

Byelaws 17-20 permit the employment of children by their parents in street trading, provided that they have been issued with consent by the local authority. Children who are permitted to engage in street trading will be subject to the Byelaws limiting their hours and other conditions of employment by virtue of being employed.

Street trading is also regulated under Section 20 of the Children and Young Persons Act 1933, which provides that no child may engage in street trading unless permitted to do so by local authority Byelaws. Such permission may only be given for children aged 14 and over who are employed by their parents.

PENALTIES

Section 21 of the Children and Young Persons’ Act 1933 as amended, provides, inter alia, that:

If a person is employed in contravention of Section 18 of the Act, or of the provision of any Byelaws made thereunder, the employer and any other person (other than the person employed) to whose act or default the contravention is attributable shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the Standard Scale (£1,000).

If a person is employed in contravention of Section 20 of the Act, the employer and any person (other than the person employed) to whose act or default the contravention is attributable shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the Standard Scale (£1,000); a person under compulsory school age who engaged in street trading in contravention of the provisions of Section 20, or of any Byelaw made thereunder, shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 1 on the Standard Scale (£200).
